

PSYTECH SOUTH AFRICA (PTY) LTD – DISCLAIMER FORM
For the use of the Psytech International GeneSys Online Assessment System
(HPCSA registered psychology professionals)

Please read and acknowledge the following disclaimer by signing below:

1. Access Control: Access to psychological assessments on the GeneSys Online assessment system is restricted to qualified, HPCSA registered professionals, including Psychologists, Psychometrists (Independent Practice) and Registered Counsellors (Independent Practice). Login credentials are confidential and should not be shared with anyone else. It is the HPCSA registered professional’s responsibility to safeguard this information.
2. Test Administration Responsibility: Responsibility rests with the HPCSA registered professional to ensure that assessments are administered within the framework of South African laws, professional regulations, and ethical codes of conduct. Psytech SA assumes no responsibility for any legal, disciplinary, or professional consequences arising from the improper use of assessments.
3. Liability Limitation: Psytech SA cannot be held responsible for decisions made based on the assessments, reports, or results generated through the GeneSys Online assessment system. All interpretations and decisions must be made by a qualified HPCSA registered professional. The accuracy of assessments depends on the proper use and interpretation by such professionals. Furthermore, Psytech SA will not refund or assume responsibility for credits lost due to user error or incorrect report selections. Credits lost due to system-related errors will be investigated, and once their validity has been confirmed, refunds will be processed accordingly. Investigations for credits lost due to system errors can take 24 to 48 working hours and we rely on Psytech International to assist, therefore this timing can be impacted.
4. Test Availability and Updates: Psytech is continually working to standardise and update assessments on the platform. For the latest information on available tests, please contact Psytech SA directly.
5. Account Security: If the registered professional suspects the account credentials have been compromised, please inform Psytech SA immediately to prevent unauthorised access to your account.
6. Account Responsibility upon Employment Change: If the HPCSA registered professional responsible for a GeneSys Online account on behalf of a company moves to other employment, please inform Psytech SA immediately. Psytech SA will suspend the account until another HPCSA registered professional is employed to take over the responsibility for the account.
7. Loss of Registration: If the HPCSA registered professional responsible for the account is deregistered, suspended, or in any way is not registered with the HPCSA, upon Psytech SA becoming aware of this, their account will be suspended, pending proof of restoration of registration with the HPCSA.

Acknowledgment:

I, _____ (Insert full name of Professional registered with the HPCSA), acknowledge that I have read, understood, and accept the terms stated above.

Email address to be used as for the GeneSys Online assessment system:

Signed: _____

HPCSA Registration Number: _____

Date: _____

PSYTECH SOUTH AFRICA (PTY) LTD – DISCLAIMER FORM
For Use of the Psytech International GeneSys 360°
(Individuals not registered with the HPCSA to complete)

Please read and acknowledge the following disclaimer by signing below:

1. Access Control

Access to Psytech GeneSys 360° Online is available to individuals employed in the HR industry and other similar environments. No formal training or accreditation is required to use this platform. The Genesys 360 User's login credentials are confidential and should not be shared with others. It is the User's responsibility to safeguard this information.

2. Responsibility of Use

Psytech GeneSys 360° is not a psychological assessment tool. While it is available to non-psychology professionals, all users are expected to interpret the results responsibly and within the scope of their professional expertise. Psytech SA assumes no responsibility for any consequences arising from misuse or misinterpretation of the platform's outputs.

3. Liability Limitation

Psytech SA cannot be held responsible for decisions made based on the data, reports, or results generated through the GeneSys Online system. Users are solely responsible for ensuring the appropriate use and interpretation of the results within their professional roles. Furthermore, Psytech SA will not refund or assume responsibility for credits lost due to user error or incorrect report selections. Credits lost due to system-related errors will be investigated, and once their validity has been confirmed, refunds will be processed accordingly. Investigations for credits lost due to system errors can take 24 to 48 working hours and we rely on Psytech International to assist, therefore this timing can be impacted.

4. Platform Availability and Updates

Psytech continually updates and improves the Genesys Online system. For the latest features and updates, please contact Psytech SA directly.

5. Account Security

If a User suspects that their account credentials have been compromised, please inform Psytech SA immediately to prevent unauthorised access to your account.

6. Account Responsibility upon Employment Change

If the user responsible for a GeneSys Online account on behalf of a company moves to other employment, please inform Psytech SA immediately. Psytech SA will suspend the account until another responsible professional is employed to take over the responsibility for the account.

Acknowledgment

I, _____ (full name), acknowledge that I have read, understood, and accept the terms stated above.

Email address to be used as for the GeneSys Online assessment system:

Signed: _____

Date: _____