

Sam Sample
27 Mar 2019

RESPONDENT

FEEDBACK REPORT

ABILITY

REPORT STRUCTURE

Abstract Reasoning assesses your capacity (a composite of speed and accuracy) to perceive logical rules that govern patterns which change simultaneously across more than one dimension, and deduce the logical consequences of these (i.e. logical deductive reasoning). This incorporates the ability to: think strategically; learn and understand complex new material; use logic to develop arguments that are rational and well-reasoned; deduce the logical consequences of a given set of rules, assumptions or relationships.

THE FEEDBACK REPORT

The Feedback Report provides a detailed breakdown of your performance in the Abstract Reasoning Test in the following sections:

1. Abstract Reasoning

PLEASE NOTE

The following report provides a summary of your performance on the tests which you have recently completed. The tests were used to help in the assessment of your personal qualities and abilities. It is important for you to note that these tests only provide an approximate description of your abilities. In addition, these tests only form part of the selection process and are typically considered alongside such factors as past performance, education, training, experience, motivation etc. All of your results will be treated in the strictest of confidence. The use of these tests is restricted to professionals who have been trained in testing and who will be able to interpret the significance of your profile within a work setting.

RESULTS

Abstract Reasoning

The Abstract Reasoning Test is a non-verbal test of ability which measures reasoning power without drawing on verbal or numerical knowledge.

Your performance on the abstract component of this test is well above the average achieved by most of the reference group, indicating an extremely high level of natural ability. This should enable you to rapidly grasp new and relatively complex concepts which are outside of your previous experience. Learning quickly, you would be expected to put training and instruction to good use.